

JOURNAL OF SCIENCE, TECHNOLOGY, AND HUMANITIES

Aims and Objectives

The Journal of Science, Technology, and Humanities focuses on the international exchange of knowledge in the natural, physical, health, and social science, engineering technology, humanities, and education, particularly between East and West. The Journal publishes peer-reviewed papers on original research, concepts and thoughts. Review articles will be invited from time to time internationally recognized authorities. The Journal will consider publication of proceedings from symposia as issues of special concern, particularly to countries from Southeast Asia.
